

USE TIME WISELY

This is a beginning of a new day.
It has been given to me this day to use as I will.
I can waste it or use it for good.
What I do today is very important because I am
Exchanging a day of my life for it.
When tomorrow comes, this day will be gone forever,
Leaving something in its place I have traded for it.
I want it to be a gain, not a loss-good not evil,
Success, not failure in order that I
Shall not forget the price I paid for it
